

Company Overview

Taks Trading Company was established in an area of 5,000 square meters by purchasing high-tech machines and equipment and started operating in the field of raisin production many years ago. This company tries to meet the diverse needs of consumers in terms of economy and quality by constantly monitoring and measuring the taste of people around the world. Promoting innovation in producing first-class products, and observing global standards in the production, Taks Trading Company has managed to produce the highest-quality raisins, while observing the international production standards. This company uses completely organic grapes to produce its products in order not to endanger the health of consumers whatsoever.

Business Description

Raisins are ripe and dried grapes that are offered in different names in the market depending on the type of grapes, drying method and the permitted additives used in it, and like other types of nuts, can be found all year round all over the world. The share of global raisin exports is more than $ 2 billion. Turkey ranks first in producing this product worldwide. The United States, Australia and Iran rank second to fourth in the world in terms of production of this product, respectively.

Among the largest companies producing raisins in the world, Taks Trading Company has managed to produce various types of raisins with the best quality and enter the global markets after packaging by producing organic grapes in the company owned-fields and gardens in the Middle East. Considering the advanced processing and packaging machines of this company, Taks has managed to significantly increase manufacturing its products in terms of quantity and quality, in an effort to become one of the main producers of this product in the Middle East.
